

FRENCH LINE REPORTED TO HAVE ADVANCED AS RESULT OF FIGHTING

PIERCE STRUGGLE SAID TO BE STILL GOING ON ALONG EN-TIRE BATTLE LINE.

GERMANS RETREATING

Monday's Battle Said to Have Favored the Allies in General Results Obtained—Accounts of Engagement Differ.

One of the most important battles of the European war continues today east of Paris along the line of the Allied armies extending from Nanteuil-Le-Haudouin to Verdun.

The Germans in their turning movement have swept through the entire Compeigne country and the five German columns are now pushing their strength against the front of the allied forces which extends for a distance of 140
miles.

The meager news filtering in
from the scene of the fighting today indicates that the allies have gained a decided success against
the German right wing which is reported to have suffered heavily
in attempts to cross the river Marne.

A report which was passed by the British and French censors says that 250,000 Russian troops
have been landed in France presumably with the object of flanking the Germans in Belgium territory.

In the eastern theatre of the war the Russians following their brilliant success at Lemberg, the capital of Austrian Galicia, are throwing their forces against the first Austrian army which for three days has been desperately trying to break through the Russian lines between Lublin and Kholm.

The details of the fighting
around Lemberg contain the statement that the Russians took 82,- 000 Austrian prisoners.

On the other hand advices received from Berlin by the German embassy at Washington that the Austrian eastern army repulsed a valiant Russian attack and captured 600 prisoners.

London, Sept. 8.—There has been a complete change in the aspect of the line of battle in France within the last forty-eight hours, says the Hague correspondent of the Morning
Post.

Expect Decisive Battle.
London, Sept. 8.—The public is waiting breathless with the hope that
the allies have finally taken the offensive,
but the cautious tone of the official communication issued from France indicates that the forward movement of the allies is only a feint to ascertain the reason for the strange eastward
swing of the German right.

No matter, however, what the for-

them before they could be utilized.
The wounded are being brought in by tramway.

Among those arriving yesterday
were two Irish troops who were separated from their regiments during the fighting at Compeigne. They could give no other account of their wanderings than that the last they knew they were fighting at Copen-

The general opinion of the morning press, that the allies may lose the battle and still make the siege of Paris difficult for the enemy, while if the Germans lose, the situation of their entire army in France would be critical.

To Surrender Ghent.
Ostend, Sept. 8.—According to the bourgeois press of that city has received a letter from the German commander asking him to come to Ghent in order to make arrangements for the entry of the Germans into Ghent.
The German general, Erhardt, was arrested at Ostend on August 4. He was tried by court martial and convicted. He was executed Saturday.

Russians Have Landed?
Paris, Sept. 8.—An agreement by the Belgian and Russian governments, according to the correspondent of the Havas agency at Petrograd, authorizes Belgian reservists and recruits of 1914 to attach themselves to Russian armies.

The agreement referred to in the foregoing dispatch would appear to be confirmatory of previous reports notably today from Rome that Russian forces have landed in Belgium.

Paris, Sept. 8.—An official communication issued at Paris this afternoon says that the left wing of the allied armies comprising portions of the forces defending Paris continues to make progress.

The advance reaches from the banks of the river Ourcq into the region of Montmirail. The Germans are retiring into the direction of the Marne
river between Meaux and Sezanne.

Report Confirmed.
The movement of retirement on the German side near Vitry is confirmed.
On the French right a German division attacked on the axis of Chateau-Salaine and Nancy but was repulsed to the northward.

Other Fighting.
Further to the east the French troops re-occupied the crest of Man-
dry and the peaks of Fourneau.
There is no change in the situation in the province of Alsace.

Violent encounters have occurred on the French center between Per-champs and Vitry-Le-Francois and the southern point of the forest of Argonne, where the Germans have lost ground.

Many Prisoners.
French and English troops engaged in the battle now progressing to the east of the capital have taken numerous prisoners including a battalion
of German infantry and a company serving with machine guns. They captured
many gun carriages.

Confirms Report.
Washington, Sept. 8.—The French
embassy today received from Bordeaux under last night's date the following:
"The German right wing (first army) on the Ourcq and Grand Morin
has been attacked with advantage to our troops. On the line Meaux-Vitry-Le-Francois the battle today became general."

The Campine (Belgium) and the Limbourg have been evacuated.
Transports of German troops from the west to the east are reported from several sources.

The fact that at the time of the capture at Lemberg twelve Austrian divisions were annihilated, is confirmed.

Ghent Agreement.
London, Sept. 8.—One of the conditions of the agreement was that the civil guards now at Waereghem
should return to Ghent and disarm.

The communal administration has undertaken to furnish the German advanced troops with provisions, the quantity and details of which will be fixed later.

It is confirmed that the Germans are endeavoring to occupy the Flemish provinces with the object of securing fresh food supplies.

To Incorporate Army.
Paris, Sept. 8.—The French minister of war today ordered that the auxiliary troops usually unarmed, be incorporated into the army when their age and health permit.

Ten Mile Advance.
London, Sept. 8.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram company from Paris

reviewing the situation in that quarter, Sept. 8.—Official statements regarding the situation at the front indicate that the French have advanced about ten miles
up to noon Monday. This latest news of the front has produced an excellent impression in Paris.

Ask for Armistice?
Paris, Sept. 8.—It is reported, unofficially, in Paris this afternoon, that the Germans to the east of the city
have asked for an armistice to bury
their dead and care for the wounded.
It is understood that this request
has been refused by the allies.

GERMANS TO SEIZE ALL BELGIAN BANKS

Plan Move in Compensation of British
Attempt to Starve Germany Says
Berlin Report.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Copenhagen, Sept. 7, via London.
Sept. 8.—The Berlin Vossische Zeitung asserts that as a counter move against England's attempt to starve Germany
by seizing the Belgian banks, the Germans will take compensation on Belgium by seizing the financial services taking control of every Belgian bank and all branches of the Belgian, French and Russian banks.
The Vossische Zeitung commenting on the triple entente agreement not to conclude peace separately, says to speak about peace at present is simply
"political futurism." The Berlin Vorwarts says that agreement will make the war last longer.

BIG TURKISH ARMY TO CHECK RUSSIANS

Mobilize 80,000 Men North of Constantinople to Prevent Possible Attack.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, Sept. 8.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Athens declares the Turks, in order to be prepared to oppose a possible
landing of Russian troops, have concentrated about 80,000 men at Thessalonika,
twenty-five miles northwest of Constantinople and Rodosto on the Sea of Marmora. Furthermore, they are fortifying along the Sea of Marmora
at other points.

The correspondent says that beginning today the Serbian army will assume the offensive against Austria.

MORE MEN AT WORK ON PARIS DEFENSES

Five Thousand Additional Excavators
Are Enlisted to Hasten Entrenchment Building.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, Sept. 8.—Several thousand excavators have been enlisted since
the outbreak of the war in putting the outer defense of the entrenched camp
in shape to resist siege by the Germans. The military governor has now decided to hasten the work and yesterday 5,000 excavators were mustered
at the hotel De Ville and divided into squads and given blankets so that they could sleep on the spot. They have been sent to outer entrenchments.

KAISER'S MINISTERS MAY HAVE RESIGNED

Rome Reports Gives News of Controversy Between Emperor William and Von Bethmann-Hollweg.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

patch from Berlin to the Messagero,
a serious controversy has arisen between the German Emperor and Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg
and minister of foreign affairs Von Jagow, the two ministers being regarded as responsible for the unsuccessful German diplomacy which lead to the coalition of European states against Germany. It is reported, according to published dispatch, that their resignations have been tendered.

insure Italy's permanent neutrality by occupying her attention with internal troubles in Tripoli.

DEAD MAN'S BODY IN TREE BY ROAD FORTY-EIGHT HOURS

Remains of Suicide Found on Beswick
Farm Yesterday—Undiscovered
by Many Who Passed.

Mystery surrounds the finding, yesterday morning of the cold and stiff body of Adolph Schack, late of Watertown, hanging from a tree by the roadside on the James Beswick farm, a short distance south of the Kellogg
nursery on the Beloit river road.
The body was discovered
about 10:30 o'clock by Miss Lillian Foster, age 21 years. Miss Foster was driving her car over the Beswick
farm on the morning of the discovery.
She lives about half a mile south of that place with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Podewell.

It was the girl's curiosity to see
closely a large number of automobiles
coming down the road, that led to the discovery.
She ran to the fence, climbed over
and just started to run to the roadway
when she saw the body hanging from the tree. Horrified to find a dead man swinging near she thought at first to flee, but on second thought ran to the Beswick home and told
the authorities.

The body was not found until Deputy Sheriff William Wogan, accompanying Commissioner Anderson and Nelson made the trip to the farm and cut down the body. To end his life
he had used a light wire and a heavy cord. The wire was twisted and hung from the limb of a tree and
to this was tied the rope which caused strangulation. The body was in the first stages of decomposition. Indications of his having hung for at least forty-eight hours.

Schack took pains that his remains would be identified. All that was found on his person were two Chicago
blankets and a key used to open the railway stations. On the two blankets
he had written eleven times, "Adolph Schack, Watertown, Wis."

This seems to be indicative that he had contemplated suicide but was de-
stressed that his body be identified and properly cared for.

That the body was not found previously to yesterday morning is questioned. It hung down from a maple tree,
about 40 rods from the Beswick farm house and in plain view of people traveling on the road. As this highway is a favorite for automobile
drivers between Janesville and Beloit
and much farm traffic the hanging
so long of the remains is more of a mystery.

Deputy Wogan opened communication over long distance telephone with the chief of police of Watertown. He police chief today having worked
there as a blacksmith for many years.
Schack has three daughters. Two live in Milwaukee, and this morning the Watertown chief notified Deputy Wogan that the third was married and resided in Chicago. He did not know her married name.

The daughter in Milwaukee had kept up her father's life insurance policy and this morning notified the Watertown police chief that she would make proper disposal of the remains.
Schack had left Watertown about two months ago and according to information had gone to Beloit to work in the Fairbanks Morse factory.

The Watertown police today instituted search for the married daughter
here. No trace of the lady, however,
was found, and it is not expected that she will know of her parent's death
until reading about it in the paper.

The Milwaukee police force searched this morning in that city for the two daughters who are reported by the Watertown chief of police to be there. Schack's assets as obtained here resulted from the work of the Milwaukee officers.

Isaac F. Connors this afternoon received word that someone would come
for the body today to take it to Chicago. He is unable to say who it will be.
It is thought that it will be the daughter, who continued premium payments
on her father's policy.

200 clergymen and a like number of laymen were here today for the opening of the annual conference of the Wisconsin annual conference of the

of the Methodist clergy who will have

ZAPATA FOLLOWERS HARRASS MEXICO CITY

Reported to Have Cut Off Capital's
Water Supply—U. S. Will Act.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Sept. 8.—Official dispatches today telling of the cutting off of Mexico City's water supply for three days, presumably by Zapatista
bands, concerned administration officials because they reflected the relentless activity of the southern leaders following the recent parties with Carranza representatives.
It was considered practically certain that if Carranza and Villa united in forming a strong central government recognition by the United States will follow, and the new administration
will have sufficient military force to quell the Zapatista movement. The suggestion of the American government that the land reforms demanded by Zapata be granted is understood will be accepted by Carranza.

GERMANS EVACUATE TREMONDE; REPULSED

Fleeing Troops Use Torch and Dynamite Bridge—Army Later Suffers Setback From Antwerp.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, September 8.—A dispatch
from Antwerp to the Hague states
that Tremonde, sixteen miles
from Ghent, was evacuated by the Germans, who lighted several fires before retiring. They also blew up the bridge over the river Escant to the north, seemingly to renounce for the moment their intrusion into the country of the Waes district. Afterward
they attacked an attack against the Belgian army, and were repulsed with great losses.

RAILROADS UNDERPAID FOR CARRYING MAILS

Committee Asks for Increase to Allow Roads Fair Commercial Profit
For Transporting Mail.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York City, Sept. 7.—Following
a meeting of the Committee on Railroad Mail Pay, held to discuss the report submitted to congress by the joint congressional committee on railway mail pay, Mr. Ralph Peters, chairman of the committee representing the 21 principal railroads of the country, authorized the following statement:

"It is most gratifying that the joint congressional committee fully and unreservedly sustains our main contention, that the railroads are now materially underpaid for carrying the mails."

"The committee proposes a plan of payment which will give the railroads
an increase of $2,000,000 a year, and completely support the companies in the other leading principles which they have urged, namely:

"That the railroads are entitled to a fair commercial profit for carrying the mails; that agreements in current use as traveling post offices
should be paid for; that the railroads
should be paid for the terminal messenger service they now perform, and that the system of weighing the mails
only once in four years is unjust and unbusinesslike."

"While the congressional committee firmly believes that the congressional committee has advanced the cause of the railroads in its service, the railroad committee has expressed its willingness to accept the views of the Bourne Committee
upon this main question of fact."

"We firmly believe that the congressional committee has conveyed
the whole subject most carefully and that its findings of fact embody the sound judgment of an unusually able
and impartial committee."

"The specific plan proposed by the Bourne Committee for hereafter meeting the underpayment due the companies is open to question. The feeling of the railroad managers is that the present system of payment, based on the weight of the mails and the distances over which it is carried, is scientific, and that if fairly administered it should be satisfactory. It actually measures and provides payment for the actual service performed. The proposed plan does not."

"That, however, is a technical matter. The Bourne Committee has established the doctrine that the railroads should be compensated on a commercial basis for the service they render. The railroad committee is now prepared to co-operate with congress in establishing detailed standards of payment which should place
this purely commercial relation upon
a sound business basis."

RAILROAD COMMISSION
WILL HOLD HEARING HERE
SEPTEMBER SIXTEENTH

ceived notice this morning that the

terurban company.

The hearing will be held to hear
arguments on the petition of Lawson
for a station building a sheltered
building, near the Northwestern railroad yards.

trians—Five Hundred Cases Found
By Russians in One Hospital.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, September 8.—The Russian embassy today issued the following statement in regard to movements of the Russian army.
On September 5, our troops took the fortress of Mikolow on the Dniester river. The positions of these works were covered by machine guns
and the hole of the work surrounded by a triple line of wire and tanglements. We took very serious losses stores of supplies and ammunition.

In Northern Galicia.
"In northern Galicia serious fighting
is going on at Rawa Russka. The first Austrian army which has been advancing toward Lublin and Hohn is retreating before the onslaughts of our troops. We are taking prisoners, guns
and ammunition."

Hospitals Full.
"In one of our field hospitals that fell into our hands yesterday 500
Austrian soldiers ill of dysentery.
This illness is sweeping the ranks of the enemy."

English Report.
A dispatch to the British embassy
from the London foreign office says:
The second Austrian army operating in the Kracow-Opat-Lublin region is suffering very serious losses
and is now acting on the defensive
and in places has retreated."

Claims Austrian Advance.
The German embassy today received the following message from Berlin:
"A column under command of the Austrian General Kesteneck advancing
together with the eastern army under the command of General von Nicolajeff repulsed a violent attack by Russians and captured 600 Russian prisoners."

Capture Forts.
Paris, Sept. 8.—A dispatch to the Hague agency from Petrograd says that the strong Austrian forts at Nicolajeff and Mikolow situated in Galicia about 25 miles southwest of Lemberg were captured by the Russians yesterday.

Losses Reported.
According to reliable advices which have reached here Russian cavalrymen are now upon the crests of the Carpathian mountains.

In Posen District.
London, Sept. 8.—A dispatch to the Star from Petrograd announces
that many German aeroplanes are appearing on the Russian frontier, heralding the arrival of reinforcements.
The German seem to possess a powerful force in the Posen district
as they moved their troops from Posen to east Prussia or Galicia as occasion demanded."

Servians Advance.
London, Sept. 8.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Nish, Servia, says the Servian army has begun the invasion of Bosnia and has crossed the river Save near Mitrovitch.

Rome, Sept. 8.—According to the Rome Tribuna, there is in France today a total of 250 Russian prisoners of war. The newspaper attributes William's presence at Metz to this concentration of the Russians.

WARDEN SHOLTZ SAYS HUNTING IS PLENTIFUL

Game Birds Have Increased, More
Deer in North Woods, Reports
State Game Head.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 8.—The fall
shooting season opened in Wisconsin
yesterday with about 100,000 hunters
in possession of licenses. The Game
Warden's department has issued 180,
000 licenses to the various counties
and it was thought that most of them
would be sold to hunters. Last year
161,858 were sold, bringing the state
$145,693.20. State Game Warden
Sholtz in speaking of the prospects
for hunting this fall said:

"There has been an excellent hatch
of prairie chickens, grouse and partridges. In some counties deer appear to be fully as plentiful as last year. Everything points to a season of sport for those who care to hunt
and fish in this state. Game birds planted by this department have increased wonderfully, according to reports, and I am led to think it is a good move on the part of this department to carry out the plan of planting birds with reliable persons to protect them and that those thus placed have proven a grand success
so far. It is the belief of the state warden that native birds only should be used to carry out the wishes of the legislature in passing laws to propagate game birds in this state."

"We do not believe that foreign
bought birds will prove satisfactory,
from what we can learn from those who have tried them out, as the stock
purchased abroad does not prove of a healthy kind and soon die after being planted in this state. It is possible that the Hungarian partridge
can be successfully propagated, but we are unable to procure any of this stock without paying exorbitant
prices. I have not as yet purchased
any of this class of birds."

TWO ITALIANS FINED
FOR SHOOTING GAME BIRDS

Two Italians were fined twenty-five dollars and costs apiece for violating the state game laws, shooting song birds. The party were arrested by Game Warden William Sholtz and arraigned before Justice Kaiser in Whitewater yesterday. The fine were paid.

Canada is rallying to England's call for volunteers, and soon more than twenty thousand Canadian troops will be fighting on European battlefields. Photo shows volunteers marching through the streets of Halifax on their way to the railway station to train for the mobilization camp at Val Cartier, Quebec, previous to their embarking for the front.

GRADUATE COACHING SYSTEM FOR INDIANA

Eastern Style of Play Will be Tried at Indiana This Season, Says Report.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 8.—This year for the first time in the history of football at Indiana University a part system of graduate coaching will be employed. When the new coach, Clarence C. Childs, takes charge of the practice on September 20, the eastern style of play will be seen for the first time on Jordan field. Coach Childs, however, said today that he intends to use a combination of the eastern and the western styles of play.

It is the plan of the new coach to have from three to four of the former Crimson stars on the field all the time during the season to assist him in coaching the team. Coming from Yale with its system of graduate coaching, Childs believes that the alumni can do much by their presence on the field during the practice hours. He believes that the inspiration that the "old men" will give the team will be very valuable and that they will be able to offer valuable suggestions.

BOSTON BRAVES MAKE NEW RECORD CLIMB

REMARKABLE SPURT OF BOSTON IS WITHOUT PARALLEL IN BASEBALL HISTORY.

ARE TIED WITH GIANTS

By Winning Today's Game With New York Boston Will Be Within One Full Game of Slipping Giants.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, September 8.—The remarkable spurt of the Boston National League club which carried it from last place to a tie for first position in a little more than a month established a new record in major league baseball. While the Braves never serious threatened the record of continuous victories they won strings of games ranging from four to seven straight with seldom more than one defeat breaking the sequence and as a result the climb from the National league cellar to a tie with the New York Giants for first place on August 24, was extremely sensational.

It is hard to fix the exact date upon which the Braves first showed signs of the rush that was destined to carry them from the bottom to the top of the ladder in less than six weeks. On Monday July 6th, the club was in last place, having won 26 games and lost 40 for a percentage of .394. Philadelphia held seventh place with .467. On that date the Braves started a run of four victories and continued with few defeats until August 24. During this period Boston met every other club in the league except Philadelphia winning 33 games, losing 8 and tying one while playing at this .805 clip the Braves scored 13 runs, 335 hits, made 64 errors and had 285 runners stranded on the bases. The averages show that but 1.27 errors were made per game and one run scored for every two hits.

The best run of victories was made between July 27 and August 6, when nine games in a row were won from Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati. It is also a peculiar coincidence that these same clubs aided by Cincinnati accounted for the eight games lost by the Braves, during the period under consideration.

Nothing like this rally or rush has been recorded in the annals of the big league. The nearest approach was the dash of the Chicago White Sox in 1906, when under the management of Fielder Jones the Chicago club by winning nineteen straight games lifted itself from seventh to first place in the American league and later defeated the St. Louis Browns in the world's championship series.

Even this run fell short of the record for the major leagues. Figures were set at twenty games by the Providence club of the National league in 1884 and the minor league record of twenty-eight games made by the Corsicana club, of the Texas league in 1902.

Billiard Contests. Billiard contests between experts always attract attention from the world over, but followers of the game in the United States and Canada will be afforded an unusual opportunity within the next two months of witnessing the acknowledged professional masters of the English and American styles in an international series of matches, the games in which will be played alternately on English and American tables. Willie Hoppe of New York, the world's champion balk line player will cross cues with thebourne Iman of England, who is the world's best cue-wielder at the English game of "winning and losing hazard."

The series calls for 22,000 points up, divided equally between the two styles of billiards and three distinct matches will be played. The first of these, consisting of 6,000 points, will be decided in New York, followed by another, under similar conditions, in Chicago and later a third match of 10,000 points will be played during a tour of the leading cities in Canada. Each match will be for $1,000 and the winner will receive a share of the gate receipts. The rules governing the American games will be 18.2 inch balk line, one shot in anchor while the "spot" and "anchor" shots will be barred in all the contests on the big English tables. The New York series will begin September 28 and concludes October 3, and the Chicago dates are from October 12 to 17 inclusive. The Canadian dates and places of meeting will be arranged later on.

Both men have been practicing earnestly for some months, each of course paying a great deal of attention to his opponent's style of game, and the matches should afford billiard lovers splendid opportunities for interesting comparisons. Twenty-one years ago, May 29 to June 2, 1893, the late Frank C. Ives, the Michigan cue worster who was known as the Napoleon of French and American billiards, played a series of three matches with John Roberts Jr., the English billiard champion, the first in London, the second in New York, and the third in Chicago at the English style exclusively. Ives won the London match 6,000 to 3,821, mainly through the "anchor" shot with the two object balls "choked" in the mouth of a corner pocket. This was a trick which Ives had learned from his tutor at the American game, the late Jake Schaefer of Chicago, and having once secured this position Ives could have continued to chuck off carams interminably. The English champion was prevented, under the conditions of the match, from playing the "spot" stroke more than once, because he could keep counting from that position almost as continuously as Ives did with the "anchor" nurse.

At Chicago, the following September, Ives defeated Roberts again, by a score of 6,000 to 5,303 under similar conditions but two weeks later they met in New York in a match game of 10,000 points up, with the "spot" and "anchor" barred, and under these a most interesting Roberts won after 10,000 to 8,738. During this match Ives surprised Roberts and all the experts at his deftness and the "rail" nurse in which by diligence, he had mastered the art of turning corners without pocketing a ball. In one game Ives pocketed far in the lead, Ives made three runs of 652, 516 and 395, a total of 1551 points at this style of play and the following day made another run of 586. On the final day of the match, although Roberts was 2,001 points in the lead, the English champion declared that he did not feel that he had a safe margin as Ives was likely to run out the game with his wonderful "rail" work but Ives was unable to secure his favorite position that day and Roberts won happily.

The conditions of the coming series are unique as each man will have an opportunity of pulling up at his "home" game because of strong and to any degree of efficiency his well known ability at balk line play should winning the larger share of the money prizes.

Play Last Schedule.

The passing of the 1914 baseball season is marked today by the completion of a number of the minor league pennant races. Golfing News.

At Garden City, L. I. this week collegial golfers will traverse the links of the local club in quest of the annual award of team and individual championship honors from the Inter collegial Golf Association. The first three days and probably the early part of Thursday will be devoted to the decision of the team championship and during the remainder of the tournament a qualifying medal match play will be the order for individual prize. Eight teams are expected to take part in the first half of the tournament representing Yale, Princeton, Harvard, the Princeton, Cornell, Williams and probably Amherst and Dartmouth.

Yale and Harvard has furnished the only championship teams since the Inter collegial association was organized. Yale has won twelve times and Harvard six. Yale has held the honor since 1905 with nine consecutive victories. In the first three of these nine contests Princeton was the runner up; Harvard was second for the next five seasons and the last year at the Huntington Valley Country Club, Philadelphia, Williams reached the final stage but was beaten by Yale, six matches to three. Yale also holds the honor of having won the greatest number of individual championships; the New Haven collegians having finished first eight times while Harvard won six and Princeton four of the eighteen premier medals awarded.

RESULTS OF BOXING
MATCHES LABOR DAY

White Knocks Out O'Brien in First Round—Gibbons Wins Shade Over K. O. Brown—Rivers Whips Beecher.

Charlie White added one more victim to his knock out list last night when he battered O'Brien down in the first round of their scheduled twenty-round fight at Denver. O'Brien had no chance against the shifty Chicagoan and was knocked down three times in five minutes and was counted out the last time he was felled. Since White's defeat of Champion Ritchie, he has defended his title against Koakum, Azvedo and last night's victim, all of whom he has knocked out.

Mike Gibbons, welterweight and premier middleweight boxer won a shade over K. O. Brown in ten rounds of furious fighting at Benton Harbor, Mich. Last night, Gibbons with his science, outboxed and outgeneraled the Chicago Greek and met the savage onslaught of Brown with a fierce fusillade of short jabs that would break the Greek's rushes and force him to clinch. Superior defense saved Gibbons from much punishment for Brown tried to make a rushing mill, but was stopped because of the remarkable footwork of the "Phantom."

The tenth was the only round which Brown won, for he landed the hardest blow of the fight on Gibbons' jaw, but the champ's cleverness saved him out.

Leach Cross the New York dentist, stepped one notch nearer a fight with Freddie Welsh, Ritchie or White when he won a shade over Johnny Tiltman, in ten rounds of milling at Hudson, W. J.

Mexican Joe River whipped White Beecher and won a twenty-round decision of the western lightweight at Los Angeles. Beecher proved to be of an iron body and concrete jaw, for Rivers cracked punches steadily on Beecher's jaw to no effect. Beecher attempted to make a "rough house" fight of it, trying to wrestle the Mexican and gave Rivers a severe trouncing on the body. At long range Rivers clearly tried to explain to Beecher he was the better man and succeeded in having the easterner in a bad way several times.

Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, knocked out Allyn, a scheduled ten round mill at Kansas City. Flynn gradually wore his more aggressive rival and whanged home the K. O. in the sixth.

Danny Goodman was shaded in ten rounds by Artie Kaufmann at Battle Creek, Mich.

Cal Delaney of Cleveland, won by a wide margin on points from Matt Brock at Canton, Ohio, for fifteen rounds.

Knock Out Brown, the lightweight, defeated Mickey Rogers, Pittsburgh's best 133 pounder in six rounds. The bell saved Rogers from a knock out in the last round.

CUBS THREATEN TO TAKE TOP POSITION

Big Double Victory for O'Day's Yesterday Over Reds Gives Them a Last Chance to Reach Top.

George Pierce and Bert Humphries are the latest heroes heard from in the annals of the national game. These pitchers, ably backed by their teammates, the Chicago Cubs, won yesterday's game, which by the way, is the cause of their walking Chicago streets today with an important strut, as if they were 1906 or 1907 Cubs, champs of the league.

Such is not so at the present writing, but every fan is looking, looking and listening, to figure out a possible way of winning the National league flag.

The Reds were the victims yesterday. Hopeless outplayed, they were forced to take the small end of both scores, 3 to 2 and 3 to 1. By the aid of these two victories, O'Day's club is but three games from the top position, the Braves and Giants holding first place, with neither team anxious to give up the berth. The big war in baseball has commenced, and anxious you fans, that before the end of three weeks the Cubs at the height of the ladder, watch the race for the next three weeks and convince your self that it is as great a war as Europe can boast of.

A Prescription.

Love one woman, all children, and some men.—Tador Jenks.

THE GOOD JUDGE GETS A TIP FROM THE 'COUNTRY DOCTOR'

MEN are learning the truth about chewing tobacco.

"Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew. A clean, small chew satisfies you.

Leaves a clean after-taste in the mouth—not the thick, foggy taste that the ordinary chew forces on a man.

That's one of the reasons why men are so eager to tell their friends about "Right-Cut."

Made of rich, sappy tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and scores. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

OVER TWO THOUSAND BEGIN SCHOOL WORK

NINE PUBLIC GRADED SCHOOLS REPORT TOTAL NUMBER AT 1844.—JEFFERSON LEADS.

INCREASE OVER PAST

High School Attendance is Larger Than Last Fall by Four—421 Entered Institution Today.

Exactly 2,065 children of the city school system morning to assume study for the coming year. This number is larger by 48 than entered school a year ago. In 1912 but 1,966 pupils were enrolled on the first day. These figures show an annual increase in number of children attending schools in the city, as well as to show the small but steady increase in population.

Practically every school shows an increase over the past year. The Jefferson leads with 378 students, this same institution having an enrollment of 262 last fall at this time. The schools to fall under last year's total are, the Adams, from 370 to 1912, to 315 at the present time; the Douglas, from 153 to 121; the Grant, from 130 to 100; and the Garfield, from 163 to 164. At the high school 421, an increase of four over last fall, enrolled, thus making a total for the nine city graded public schools at 1844. One hundred and seventy-one boys and two hundred and fifty girls entered the high school this morning.

The present attendance in the city schools is about equal to some extent, but where some come, others will go. There is any in the balance, will be light. The schools were dismissed as soon as the pupils had been given lists of books to purchase, and arranged their work satisfactory to their teacher. Regular work will commence tomorrow.

The attendance at the nine various public graded schools in the city this morning with the number of pupils in each grade given, is as follows:

Adams School—Kindergarten, 37; first, 20; second, 22; third, 20; fourth, 20; fifth, 41; sixth, 40; seventh, 20; eighth, 21; total number, 315.

Douglas School—Kindergarten, 16; first, 22; second, 22; third, 23; fourth, 22; total number, 121.

Grant School—First, 24; second, 13; third, 3; fourth, 13; fifth, 13; sixth, 13; seventh, 13; eighth, 13; total number, 54.

Jackson School—Second, 10; third, 16; fourth, 9; fifth, 19; total number, 54.

Jefferson School—Kindergarten, 42; first, 46; second, 43; third, 39; fourth, 42; fifth, 47; sixth, 45; seventh, 45; eighth, 31; total number, 378.

Washington School—Kindergarten, 42; first, 31; second, 40; third, 24; fourth, 33; fifth, 40; sixth, 44; seventh, 41; total number, 285.

Webster School—Kindergarten, 40; first, 23; second, 18; fifth, 34; total number, 109.

Garfield School—Fifth, 21; sixth, 21; seventh, 20; eighth, 23; total number, 100.

Lincoln School—First, 3; second, 10; third, 10; fourth, 26; fifth, 18; seventh, 28; eighth, 20; total number, 164.

Three other institutions of learning in the city have not been heard from, giving to the fact that the enrollments were not taken this morning. They are, the St. Paul's German school, St. Joseph's Convent school, and St. Vincent's school. Their totals will be announced later.

SOCIETIES WILL BE PLACED ON A MORE DEMOCRATIC BASIS

Supt. H. C. Buell Makes Announcement at Opening of High School This Morning.

To meet the general satisfaction of high school students, parents and Janesville citizens, and to alter the action taken by the board of education, the high school youth and members of the literary societies in the past, especially in the last two years, Supt. H. C. Buell urged the present members of the societies at the opening of school this morning to secure any new members for their respective clubs until further notification was given.

The trouble throughout the club more so in the boys' organizations than in the girls, has kept the board on edge for that period, wondering just what course to pursue. It was finally decided to open the doors of the clubs to the two upper classes, and to create a democratic spirit in the school, instead of the formulated clicks which had predominated so vividly in the past. This democratic spirit, it is believed, has been the missing link in the high school for some time, and with the societies enlarged, including more students, instead of the select few, will place the school on a higher level, and to eradicate the vices that played a prominent part in athletic circles and on other occasions during the past year.

The new idea introduced by Superintendent Buell will be in the plain sense of the word, to make the societies more democratic, more open, and to place them on a higher level, and to eradicate the vices that played a prominent part in athletic circles and on other occasions during the past year.

HUSBAND IS BROUGHT BACK FOR DESERTION

Sheriff Whipple Goes Six Hundred Miles to Arrest Marvin Lee of Magnolia for Wife Desertion.

Marvin Lee was brought before Judge H. L. Maxfield in the municipal court this morning on the charge of deserting his wife, May Lee and her old daughter Jessie, leaving them in destitute and precarious circumstances on the fourth of December, last year. Lee was arrested in Sisseton, South Dakota, last week by J. L. Mendell, sheriff of Roberts county, where he was located by Sheriff C. B. Whipple.

Sheriff Whipple left Friday and was required to travel nearly six hundred miles to arrest Lee. The warrant charges the young man with deserting his family in December of last year, which time it is alleged Lee has offered no means to provide a livelihood for his wife who resides in Magnolia.

Lee in court this morning waived the reading of the warrant and asked

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

POINTLESS REMARKS. "What have you been doing all this morning?" the Author-man asked the Cynic. "Studying various forms of mental weakness exhibited by people usually classed as 'well-meaning,'" answered the Cynic. "Why," expostulated Molly, the little stenographer-lady, "you've been working on the engine of your motor boat." "Oh, that was very incidental," answered the Cynic. "For instance, you saw me take the engine out of the boat. That involved a lot of work and took a lot of skin off my fingers. You may have thought that I was doing that in order to learn just where the trouble lay. But in reality I was simply giving a well-groomed, genial old gentleman an opportunity to give himself away. One might have thought, if he opened his mouth, he would say something worth while. What he actually did say, as he stood by, watching me tugging away, covered with grime and perspiration, was 'faking your engine out.' Wonderful brain; remarkable perspicacity that man has!"

"Now there are a lot of other people down here that look thoroughly intelligent. But they aren't. I have discovered them. They have brains as elementary as a child's. For instance, if you see a cow on the land-escape, you do not say, 'See the cow?' The cow is obvious. The child says just that. That's a child's trick. Now, one might know, with the dismembered engine scattered about me and tools all over the place, that everybody who saw me would realize that it was obvious. But they didn't—they all had to ask me solemnly if I was fixing the engine!"

"They were simply trying to be nice and affable," protested Molly. "I don't think it is kind of you to take it that way."

"What you mean," answered the Cynic, "is that they want to be nice to anybody, but they deserve the worst. They may be indulgent husbands and kind fathers, but I want to know of them. What I am looking for is a man who combines a keen and a keen in the midst of a fight-to-the-finish-with-no-quarter-shows of either side tussling with a marine engine, will overlook the obvious fact of my being so engaged and still proceed to think a little further and come to the conclusion that not only am I fixing my engine, but, being so engaged, I am preoccupied, perspiration and inclined to be irritable, and therefore the best thing he can do is to say nothing and move on."

"The Cynic smiled self-consciously. 'Peccavi,' he admitted, 'but if you will start a Society for the Suppression of the Obvious and Pointless Remark, I'll head the membership list with my name and hustle around and try to boost the membership for you.'

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Will you kindly inform me what I can apply to my arms to remove the hairs? I know the electric needle is only a permanent cure for hairs, but that is very expensive, and isn't there something one could apply to remove the excessive hair temporarily which would not be injurious to the skin?

(2) The pores in the skin of my nose are very large. Will you please tell me what to do to remedy this? THANK YOU.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: We are two children fourteen and fifteen years and would like your advice. (1) Do you think it improper to speak to a boy in the evening? (2) Could a police officer arrest us for doing so? (3) I am fifteen years old. I am five feet one inch tall. Am I too tall for my age? (4) My friend is fourteen years old. She is four feet eleven inches tall. Is she too small for her age? MAMIE AND HOLLEN.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Could you please give me the history of President Wilson, that is, where and when he was born, his education, etc. A CONSTANT READER.

Lack of space prevents me from granting your request, but you can find the desired information from 'Who's Who in America' for the years 1912-1913.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: We are three chums thirteen years old and would like to ask you a few questions. (1) Is it wrong to kiss a boy before you are engaged?

Things Worth Knowing. No water can get in; put this mold into a vessel of boiling water and keep it boiling steadily for three hours; then turn the pudding from the mold and serve with any good pudding sauce. This may be baked instead of steamed, for a change.

Huckleberry Pudding—Stir together a quart of washed and floured berries, one cupful of milk, one ounce of molasses, one pound and a half of flour, a teaspoonful of each of cloves, nutmeg and cinnamon and a tablespoonful of soda. Pour into a pudding bag and boil from two and a half to three hours. Serve with a rich sauce or sweetened cream.

Tomato and Pineapple Salad—A slice each of pineapple and tomato put together in the form of a sandwich with mayonnaise dressing between is a very good combination.

Junket with chopped pineapple makes a most delightful and refreshing dessert. Serve the chopped pineapple on the junket at the table, as it will look better than if allowed to stand.

The Awakening of Peggy

In Which Peggy Learns That Father's Business is Affected by the War.

Peggy stopped in a small downtown restaurant for a bite of lunch. After she had given her order, she became interested, at first unconsciously, in the conversation of two men at an adjoining table. They were discussing the European war.

"Yes, it's bad for business," one was saying. "We hardly realized before the war broke out that we depended upon Europe for so many things."

"Now that ocean trade is practically cut off," said the other, "I presume that very little is coming into this country from abroad. The children's stockings may be affected when Christmas comes. You know what a lot of common toys are made of."

"A lot of people are going to be hard hit," continued the first man. "The folks that have established themselves in lines that depend even in part on imported goods are going to suffer. Now, take George Gray for example."

Peggy gave a little start. They were talking of men who would be injured in business by the war, and her father was the first to be specifically mentioned.

"Yes, Gray will have to look out," nodded the second man. "He's in a business that calls for a lot of European stuff, and he's going to have a quiet time of it for a few months. I'm afraid."

"This war may mean failure for some folks," went on the first man. "Tough for the families that have got used to living on the top shelf."

Unable to eat another mouthful, Peggy gave a little start. They were talking of men who would be injured in business by the war, and her father was the first to be specifically mentioned.

Parfait d'Amour.—Fill sherbet glasses with strawberry ice cream, add a spoonful of strawberry sirup to each glass and garnish with sweetened whipped cream and a whole strawberry.

Frozen Strawberry Shortcake.—Make cup cakes, and when cold hollow out and fill with strawberry ice, top with whipped cream and a fresh berry for garnish.

Steamed Chicken.—Cut up chicken as for fricassee, brown in butter, then add a cupful of boiling water and simmer for half an hour. Remove the cover and let re-brown. The gravy is especially delicious when the chicken is cooked this way.

Tomato and Pineapple Salad.—A slice each of pineapple and tomato put together in the form of a sandwich with mayonnaise dressing between is a very good combination.

FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN

As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Dispelled Backache, Headaches and Dizziness.

Piqua, Ohio.—"I would be very ungrateful if I failed to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise it deserves, for I have taken it at different times and it always relieved me when other medicines failed, and when I hear a woman complain I always recommend it. Last winter I was attacked with a severe case of organic weakness. I had backache, pains in my hips and over my kidneys, headache, dizziness, lassitude, had no energy, limbs ached and I was always tired. I was hardly able to do my housework. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on one other occasion, and it had helped me so I took it again and it has built me up, until now I feel like a new woman. You have my hearty consent to use my name and testimonial in any way and I hope it will benefit suffering women."—MRS. ORPHA TURNER, 431 S. Wayne St., Piqua, Ohio.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

THE WORLD SET FREE

Europe's Armageddon and the Last War

By H. G. WELLS

Copyright, 1914, by H. G. WELLS

Behind the veil of this vagueness the little group of more or less worthy men which constituted headquarters was beginning to realize the enormity of the thing it was supposed to control. In the great hall of the war control, whose windows looked out across the Seine to the Trocadero and the palaces of the western quarter, a series of big scale relief maps were laid out upon tables to display the whole seat of war, and the staff officers of the control were continually busy shifting the little blocks which represented the contending troops, as the reports and intelligence came drifting in to the various telegraphic bureaus in the adjacent rooms. In other smaller apartments there were maps of a less detailed sort, upon which, for example, the reports of the British admiralty and of the French admiralty were recorded, and the staff officers of the control were continually busy shifting the little blocks which represented the contending troops, as the reports and intelligence came drifting in to the various telegraphic bureaus in the adjacent rooms. In other smaller apartments there were maps of a less detailed sort, upon which, for example, the reports of the British admiralty and of the French admiralty were recorded, and the staff officers of the control were continually busy shifting the little blocks which represented the contending troops, as the reports and intelligence came drifting in to the various telegraphic bureaus in the adjacent rooms.

But he had reckoned without a proper estimate either of the new strategy of aviation or of the possibilities of atomic energy that Holston had opened for mankind. While he planned interventions and invasions and a frontier war, the central European generalship was striking at the eyes and the brain. And while, with a certain diffident hesitation, he developed his gambit that night upon the lines laid down by Napoleon and Moltke, his own scientific corps in a state of mutinous activity was preparing a blow for Berlin. "These old fools," was the key in which the scientific corps was thinking.

The war control in Paris on the night of July 2 was an impressive display of the paraphernalia of military organization as the first half of the twentieth century understood it. To one human being at least the consulting commanders had the likeness of world-wielding gods.

She was a skilled typist, capable of nearly sixty words a minute, and she had been engaged in relay with other similar women to take down orders in duplicate and hand them over to the junior officers in attendance to be forwarded and filed. There had come a lull, and she had been sent out from the dictating room to take the air upon the terrace before the great hall and to eat such scanty refreshment as she had brought with her until her services were required again.

From her position upon the terrace this young woman had a view not only of the wide sweep of the river below her and all the eastward side of Paris from the Arc de Triomphe to St. Cloud, great blocks and masses of black or pale darkness with pink and golden flashes of illumination and endless interlacing bands of dotted lights under a still and starless sky, but also the whole spacious interior of the great hall with its slender pillars and gracious arching and clustering lamps was visible to her. There over a wilderness of tables lay the huge maps, done on so large a scale that one might fancy them small countries. The messengers and attendants went and came perpetually, altering, moving the little pieces that signified hundreds and thousands of men, and the great commander and his two consultants stood amid all these things and near where the fighting was nearest, scheming, directing. They had but to breathe a word and presently away there in the world of reality the punctual myriads moved. Men rose up and went forward and died. The fate of nations lay behind the eyes of these three men. Indeed, they were like gods.

Most godlike of the three was Dubois. It was for him to decide; the others at most might suggest. Her woman's soul went out to this grave, handsome, tall, old man, in passion of instructive worship.

Once she had taken words of instruction from him direct. She had awaited them in an ecstasy of happiness—and fear—for her exaltation was made terrible by the dread that some error might dishonor her.

She watched him now through the glass with all the unpenetrating minuteness of an impassioned woman's observation.

looked but little at the maps. The tall Englishman beside him was manifestly troubled by a swarm of ideas, conflicting ideas. He craned his neck at every shifting of the little red, blue, black and yellow pieces on the board and wanted to draw the commander's attention to this and that. Dubois listened, nodded, emitted a word and became still again, brooding like the national eagle.

His eyes were so deeply sunken under his white eyebrows that she could not see them and his mustache overhung the mouth from which those words of decision came. Viard, too, said little. He was a dark man, with a drooping head and melancholy, watchful eyes. He was more intent upon the French right, which was feeling its way now through Alsace to the Rhine. He was, she knew, an old colleague of Dubois. He knew him better, she decided. He trusted him more than this unfamiliar Englishman.

Not to talk, to remain impassive and as far as possible in profile; these were the lessons that old Dubois had mastered years ago. To seem to know all, to betray no surprise, to refuse to hurry—these were the lessons that old Dubois had mastered years ago. To seem to know all, to betray no surprise, to refuse to hurry—these were the lessons that old Dubois had mastered years ago. To seem to know all, to betray no surprise, to refuse to hurry—these were the lessons that old Dubois had mastered years ago.

She had all the sensations of waking up out of a dream. She found she was lying face downward on a bank of mold and that a little rivulet of hot water was running over one foot. She tried to raise herself and found her leg was very painful. She was not clear whether it was night or day nor where she was. She made a second effort, wincing and groaning, and turned over and got into a sitting position and looked about her. Everything seemed very silent. She was, in fact, in the midst of a vast upward, but she did not realize this because her hearing had been destroyed. At first she could not join on what she saw to any previous experience.

She seemed to be in a strange world, a soundless, ruinous world, a world of heaped broken things. And it was lit—and somehow this was more familiar to her mind than any other fact about her—by a flickering, purplish crimson light. Then close to her, rising above a confusion of debris, she recognized the Trocadero. It was changed; something had gone from it, but its outline was unmistakable. It stood out against a streaming, whirling uprush of red lit steam, and with that she recalled Paris and the Seine and the warm, overcast evening and the beautiful luminous organization of the war control.

She drew herself a little way up the slope of earth on which she lay and examined her surroundings with an increasing understanding. The earth on which she was lying projected like a cape into the river. Quite close to her was a brimming lake of dammed up water, from which these warm rivulets and torrents were trickling. Wisps of vapor came into circling existence a foot or so from its mirror-like surface. Near at hand and reflected exactly in the water was the upper part of a familiar looking stone pillar. On the side of her away from the water the heaped ruins rose steeply in a confused slope up to a glaring crest. Above and reflecting this glare towered pillowed masses of steam rolling swiftly upward to the zenith. It was from this crest that the livid glow that lit the world about her proceeded, and slowly her mind connected this mound with the vanished buildings of the war control.

"Main!" she whispered and remained with staring eyes quite motionless for a time, crouching close to the warm earth.

She roused herself with a start. She became aware that the night outside was no longer still. That there was an excitement down below on the bridge and a running in the street and a flickering of searchlights among the clouds from some high place away beyond the Trocadero, and then the excitement came surging up past her and invaded the hall within.

One of the sentinels from the terrace stood at the upper end of the room gesticulating and shouting something.

And all the world had changed—a kind of throbbing. She couldn't understand. It was as if all the water pipes and concealed machinery and cables of the ways beneath were beating—as pulses beat. And about her blew something like a wind—a wind that was dizziness.

Her eyes went to the face of the marshal as a frightened child might look toward its mother.

He was still serene. He was frowning slightly, she thought, but that was natural enough, for the Earl of Delhi, with one hand gauntly gesticulating, had taken him by the arm and was all too manifestly disposed to drag him toward the great door that opened on the terrace. And Viard was hurrying toward the huge windows and doing so in the strangest of attitudes, bent forward and with eyes upturned.

Something up there?

And then it was as if thunder broke overhead.

The sound struck her like a blow. She crouched together against the masonry and looked up. She saw three black shapes swooping down through the torn clouds, and from a point a little below two of them had already started curling trails of red.

Everything else in her being was paralyzed. She hung through moments that seemed infinite watching those red missiles whirl down toward her.

She felt torn out of the world. There was nothing else in the world but a crimson-purple glare and sound, deafening, all embracing, continuing sound. Every other light had gone out about her, and against this glare hung slanting walls, projecting pillars, projecting fragments of cornices and a disorderly flight of huge angular sheets of glass.

She had an impression of a great ball of crimson-purple fire like a maddened living thing that seemed to be whirling about very rapidly amidst a chaos of falling masonry that seemed to be attacking the earth furiously, that seemed to be burrowing into it like a blazing rabbit.

She had all the sensations of waking up out of a dream.

She found she was lying face downward on a bank of mold and that a little rivulet of hot water was running over one foot. She tried to raise herself and found her leg was very painful. She was not clear whether it was night or day nor where she was. She made a second effort, wincing and groaning, and turned over and got into a sitting position and looked about her. It was from this crest that the livid glow that lit the world about her proceeded, and slowly her mind connected this mound with the vanished buildings of the war control.

"Main!" she whispered and remained with staring eyes quite motionless for a time, crouching close to the warm earth.

Then presently this dim, broken human thing began to look about it again. She began to feel the need of fellow-ship. She wanted to question, wanted to speak, wanted to relate her experience. And her foot hurt her atrociously. There ought to be an ambulance. A little gust of querulous criticisms blew across her mind. This surely was a disaster! Always after a disaster there should be ambulances and helpers moving about.

She craned her head. There was something there. But everything was so still!

"Monsieur!" she cried. Her ears, she noted, felt queer, and she began to suspect that all was not well with them.

It was terribly lonely in this chaotic strangeness, and perhaps this man—if it was a man, for it was difficult to see—might for all his stillness be merely insensible. He might have been stunned.

The leaping glare beyond sent a ray into his corner and for a moment every little detail was distinct. It was Marshal Dubois. He was lying against a huge slab of the war map. To it there stuck and from it there dangled little wooden objects, symbols of infantry and cavalry and guns as they were disposed upon the frontier. He did not seem to be aware of this at his back, he had an effect of inattention, not indifferent attention, but as if he were thinking.

She could not see the eyes beneath his shaggy brows, but it was evident he frowned. He frowned slightly. He had an air of not wanting to be disturbed. His face still bore that expression of assured confidence, that conviction that if things were left to him France might obey in security. She did not cry out to him again, but she crept a little nearer. A strange surmise made her eyes dilate. With a painful wrench, she pulled herself up so that she could see completely over the intervening lumps of smashed up masonry. Her hand, touched something wet, and after one convulsive movement she became rigid.

Dinner Stories

A woman who, by bearing and dress, could be distinguished as "newly rich," entered a street car, and with a very hearty air seated herself near an old Italian.

When the conductor came to take up the fares she said to him in a loud voice: "Let me off at my husband's bank."

The conductor, evidently knowing her, assured her he would, and passed on to the Italian.

"Let me off at my peanut stand," called out the old fellow as he paid his fare.

A well-known medical man recently told the following amusing story: An enterprising tradesman sent him a box of cigars, which had not been ordered, together with a bill. The accompanying letter stated that, "I have ventured to send these on my own initiative, being convinced that you will appreciate their exquisite flavor."

In due course the doctor replied: "You have not asked me for a consultation, but I venture to send you five prescriptions," being satisfied that you will be quite as satisfied with them as I am with your cigars. As my charge for a prescription is $3.00, that makes us quits.

Carpenters Can Apply BESTWALL and Save the Time and Muss of Plastering

Bestwall is of as much value to the contractor and carpenter as to the owner. It is nailed directly to the studs by the carpenter in a fraction of the time required to apply lath, then wait for plaster to set. Extreme cold or wet may prevent the laying of plaster and hold up carpenters on outside work, but they go right ahead where Bestwall is used, without a minute lost, regardless of weather.

Rooms furnished in Bestwall have a beautiful appearance—no paint strips.

Any way you take it, Bestwall has the advantage over lath and plaster or any wall board, for it is guaranteed not to warp, crack or shrink and is absolutely fireproof.

CHICAGO'S CHANCES ARE "ROSY STREAKED"

Maroon Line Will Be Strong This Year With Veterans—Backfield Has Weak Points.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 8.—For the first time in many years, the first bulletin from Coach Alonzo Stagg's football camp does not bear the unfortunate name. There is no disposition to crow over the University of Chicago's chances this fall, but the Maroon experts agree that the prospects at least are rosy-streaked.

When his varsity aspirants appear for first practice on September 20, Stagg will have a line of surprising strength, something the Maroon eleven generally lacks at the opening of the season. The weak spot this year appears to be the backfield. There is good talent in last year's reserve string and freshmen squad, however, and Stagg's team should be up and battling for the 1914 western conference championship from the start.

Des Jarden and Shull of last year's Maroon eleven will fill their former places in the line. John Alton, 240 pound wrestler and track man of last year's freshman team, is expected to fill the other tackle job opposite Shull. Arthur Scanlon, guard of the Maroon eleven two years ago, who was not in school last year, will return to become a candidate for one of the guard positions. The other way to go to Philbrick Jackson, star guard on the freshman eleven last year.

Huntington, regular left end last year, probably will have the same job this year. Sparks, who alternated at tackle and end with the 1913 conference championship eleven, is expected to fill Baumgartner's end, the Maroon having deserted the gridiron to play professional ball. Another like him is Gouwens, a tall, heavy youth who performed brilliantly for the freshmen eleven last year.

In the backfield, Quarterback Russell and halfback "Dolly" Gray of last year's eleven, give Stagg a base to build upon. Captain Norgren of last year's team, Pullback Pierce, Fitzpatrick and Kennedy were lost to the Maroons by graduation and the two backfield vacancies will be hard to fill. Berger of the championship Wisconsin eleven of 1912, is the leading candidate for Norgren's place. Half a dozen good men aspire to fill Pierce's shoes.

DENVER PRIMARIES BRING OUT BIG VOTE

Denver, Sept. 8.—The most enthusiastic primary campaign in the recent history of Colorado was brought to a close today when the state-wide primaries for the nomination of state legislative, congressional and senatorial candidates were held. The candidates for most of the important offices in the Republican and Democratic parties are numerous, while there are few contests in the Progressive ranks.

For governor, Edward P. Costigan, of Denver, is the only Progressive candidate, having been designated at the state assembly of the party at Colorado Springs in July. In the Republican ranks, Samuel D. Nicholson, of Leadville; Frank C. Goudy, of Denver; and George Carlson, of Ft. Collins are candidates. All three of these men are seeking the nomination on a declaration of law and order. All three have made spirited campaigns and all today expressed confidence of gaining the party's nomination.

Thomas M. Peterson, of Denver, former United States Senator; and Barnett T. Naple, of Glenwood Springs, are the only candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor. Both men have strong followings within the party. Great interest centers in the United States senatorship, in which the first time a senator is to be elected in Colorado under the new direct election law. Senator Charles S. Thomas, of Grand Junction, is the only Progressive candidate. I. N. Stevens, of Denver, and Dr. Hubert Work, of Pueblo, are the Republican candidates. Representative Seldombridge and Taylor, of the present Colorado delegation in the lower house of congress, are not opposed for re-nomination. Representative Keating of Pueblo, is opposed by B. M. McDaniels, Representative Kindell, of Denver, though elected with congress as a Democrat, differed with the leaders of his party in congress and withdrew from the Democratic ranks a few months ago. He will be an independent candidate for re-election at the November election. In the minor offices there are many contests but none equaling the importance of the offices named.

APPOINTS SUCCESSOR TO BEN FUELLEMAN

Milwaukee County Clerk Names Real Estate Man As His Assistant.

Frank G. Gregory, for several years a clerk in the Milwaukee county clerk's office, was appointed committee clerk by County Clerk Louis G. Widule to succeed Benjamin Fuelleman, former Recorder editor, according to an announcement made on Monday by Mr. Widule.

Robert P. Krueger, 923 Fourth street, a real estate man, will fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Mr. Gregory. County Clerk Widule on Monday issued the following statement:

"I have been elected by the people of Milwaukee county as their county clerk. I am by law made responsible for the acts and defaults of my assistants, none of whom are by law required to make an official oath. Mr. Fuelleman having occupied the position of an employee or assistant in the office and the question of his duties being matters entirely under my control, I no doubt had the right to remove him for the good of the service."

"Having the power to appoint an assistant for those acts and defaults I am responsible, I have power to remove, especially for cause, unless restricted by law."

"I have conducted my office in a strictly nonpartisan spirit, as evidenced by my appointments of four republicans and four democrats. In the same spirit I intend to continue the policy of my office. The vacancy caused by the promotion of Frank G. Gregory, who succeeds Mr. Fuelleman, will be filled by a republican. 'Fuelleman seems to think that the county will suffer materially because of his loss. I wish to say that the responsibility in this connection rests with me.'"

KEGONSA BOAT CLUB HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

In all ten boats took part, five from Madison being brought down to take part. Class A was won by the Blackhawk of Madison, while the Class B prize went to the Kite owner, and sailed by Mr. Bartlett of Rockford, who has a summer home at the lake. There was plenty of wind and the races were most interesting to watch. With the organization of a boat club it is expected more boats will be brought to the lake next season and the races will be features of all aquatic sports.
